Snowshoeing is a recreational activity that is enjoying a period of worldwide growth.

The materials and designs for snowshoes are continually evolving both to support the category and to drive additional participants to the sport.

K2 Sports is the owner of snowshoe brands Atlas, Tubbs and PowerRidge.

The K2 snowshoe development team will review some of the fundamentals of snowshoe design and the materials and processes used to construct current snowshoes, including some of the newest designs from Atlas and Tubbs.
